HIGHLIGHTS

- The world's largest conference for mediators, arbitrators, advocates and other ADR professionals
- More than 120 total CLE sessions taught by nationally recognized faculty
- Numerous opportunities to network
- New "Representing Clients in ADR" track designed for lawyer advocates
- Exhibitors showcasing innovative and interesting resources and services
- Organized in collaboration with the Georgia ADR Institute and Neutrals' Conference

MAIN SESSIONS

The core of the conference features 83 sessions over two and a half days covering the diverse world of dispute resolution. Organized into 15 subject and practice areas tracks, you will receive an entire year's worth of CLE in just a few days.

NATIONAL COURT CONFERENCE

The Court Conference is the annual gathering and information place for judges, court administrators, lawyers, mediators, and others interested in court dispute resolution programs. Confidentiality, ethical dilemmas, good faith, the vanishing trial, parenting coordination and advanced dynamics of court ADR programs headline the featured topics.

For detailed session and faculty information go to:
www.abanet.org/dispute

SKILLS TRAINING

Start the conference off with specialized skills training offered in the "master class" model. Expert faculty and leading ADR organizations present over 22 Thursday morning sessions.

For detailed session and faculty information go to:
www.abanet.org/dispute

FORUM ON EXPANDING OPPORTUNITIES

The Forum focuses on expanding professional ADR opportunities for minorities and women through a set of practice development and skills sessions specifically designed to address the barriers in law firms, corporations, ADR provider organizations, and other large institutions. A must for those working in corporate, legal and ADR environments.

For detailed session and faculty information go to:
www.abanet.org/dispute

LEGAL EDUCATORS' COLLOQUIUM

Join law professors, adjuncts, and faculty from other disciplines to explore and discuss innovative ways to teach dispute resolution. The Colloquium runs concurrently with the main conference and is free to all persons registered for the conference. The Legal Educators' Working Lunch, a separate ticketed event, provides a networking opportunity for Colloquium attendees and presenters.

A WHALE OF A GOOD TIME

Join us Friday, April 7, for a reception at the Georgia Aquarium as we visit the fishes.

5:00 – 7:00 pm Aquarium Admission

7:00 – 9:00 pm Reception

The Georgia Aquarium opened in November 2005 and is the World's Largest Aquarium. With over 8 million gallons of fresh and marine water, and 100,000 animals representing 500 species from around the globe, you're sure to see things you've never seen before! The exterior of the building was designed to look like a giant ship breaking through a wave. As guests enter the huge atrium inside the building, you will be led into the facility by "a wall of fish" guiding you inside for a tour of this exciting facility.

Our Reception will give you an opportunity to tour the aquarium while you network with your colleagues and feast on sumptuous cuisine. Aquarium admission is included with your Reception ticket.
